INTRODUCTION
AND
GENERAL INDEX

R. L. POLK & Co., publishers of more than 1,300 city, county, state and national Directories, present to subscribers and the general public, this, the 1964-65 edition of the San Francisco City Directory.

Confidence in the continued growth of San Francisco's industry, population and wealth, and in the advancement of its civic and social activities, will be maintained as sections of this Directory are consulted, for the Directory is a mirror truly reflecting San Francisco to the world.

The enviable position occupied by R. L. POLK & CO.'S Directories in the estimation of the public throughout the country, has been established by rendering the best in Directory service. With an unrivaled organization, and having had the courteous and hearty cooperation of the business and professional men and residents, the publishers feel that the result of their labors will meet with the approval of every user, and that the San Francisco Directory will fulfill its mission as a source of authentic information pertaining to the city.

Three Major Departments

The three major departments are arranged in the following order:—

I. THE BUYERS' GUIDE constitutes the first major department of the Directory, printed on yellow paper. In the first section of this department, grouped under appropriate headings, are included the advertisements and business cards of firms and individuals desiring to make a complete presentation of their products or services. Following this is the Classified Business section, which embraces a list of the names and addresses of all business and professional concerns of the city, arranged in alphabetical order under appropriate headings—a catalog of all the activities of the city. The Buyers' Guide represents reference advertising at its best, and merits the attention of all buyers and sellers seeking sources of supply or markets for goods. In a great commercial, industrial and shipping metropolis like San Francisco, the necessity of having this kind of information up-to-date and always immediately available, is obvious. The Directory is the common intermediary between buyer and seller, and plays an important role in the daily activities of the commercial and professional world.

II. THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of residents and business and professional concerns is the second major department, printed on white paper. This is the only record in existence that aims to show the name, marital status, occupation and address of each adult resident of San Francisco, and the name, official personnel, nature and address of each firm and corporation in the city.

III. THE DIRECTORY OF HOUSEHOLDERS, INCLUDING STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE, on green paper, is the third major department. In this section the numbered streets are arranged in numerical order, followed by the named streets in alphabetical order; the numbers of the residences and business concerns are arranged in numerical order under the name of each street, and the names of the householders and concerns are placed opposite the numbers. The names of the intersecting streets appear at their respective crossing points on each street. Special features of this section are the designation of owner-occupied homes and the listing of telephone numbers.

Municipal Publicity

The Directory reflects the achievements and ambitions of the city, depicting in unbiased terms what it has to offer as a place of residence, as a business location, as a port, as a manufacturing site and as an educational center. To broadcast this information, the publishers have placed copies of this issue of the Directory in Directory Libraries, where they are readily available for free public reference, and serve as perpetual and reliable advertisements of San Francisco.

The San Francisco Directory Library

Through the courtesy of the publishers of the San Francisco City Directory, a Directory Library is maintained in their offices at 870 Market St., for free reference by the general public. This is one of more than 1,000 Directory Libraries installed in cities and towns throughout the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico by members of the Association of North American Directory Publishers, under whose supervision the system is operated.

The publishers appreciatively acknowledge the recognition by those progressive business and professional men who have demonstrated their confidence in the City Directory as an advertising medium, with assurance that it will bring a commensurate return.

CAUTION

Pay no money in advance to itinerant Directory Canvassers. We are led to mention this from the fact that certain parties have been fraudulently using our publications as specimens, and by that means collecting money in advance. Before signing an order, see that it has the name of R. L. Polk & Co. printed thereon. We ask no payment until the work is delivered, and our solicitors have strict orders not to take payment for either advertising or subscriptions.

SAN FRANCISCO

Research Department)

SITUATION

San Francisco, "City by the Golden Gate," whose City Hall is situated at 37 degrees 47 minutes north latitude and 122 degrees 25 minutes west longitude, on a hilly peninsula with altitudes ranging from sea level to 933.6 feet U. S. Base, is bounded on three sides by water. Of a total of 129 square miles, only 46.38 are land. It is among the few world cities with the distinction of having more than half of its entire area washed daily by the ocean's tidal currents.

San Francisco has within its boundaries three islands—Yerba Buena, Treasure and Alcatraz—besides the Farallon Islands group some 32 miles west, which has been included in the City and County of San Francisco since 1872.

POPULATION

July 1, 1963, population estimate for San Francisco was 742,000.

The 1960 U. S. Census gave San Francisco a population of 740,316, representing a loss from 1950 of about 4.5%. Even though several cities in the Bay Area lost population in the decade, the losses were countered by sizeable gains in the newer, outlying cities of the metropolitan area. Many of the older areas in the city have become less congested, and in most dwellings the total number of occupants has dwindled. Predominating nationalities of foreign-born residents: Italian, German, Irish, Canadian, Chinese, Japanese, Russian, Mexican.

AREA, ALTITUDE, CITY FINANCES

Area—45.45 square miles (land, 46.38 including islands).

Altitude—Sea level to 933.6 feet city datum.

Assessed Valuation—$2,261,549,439 (1963-64), all property, including $86,309,100 veteran and welfare exemptions. Tax rate of $8.82 per $100 assessed valuation (1963-64) included $0.017 levied by Rapid Transit District, but collected by City.

Bonded Debt—$249,000,000 (June 30, 1963).

CLIMATE

San Francisco's unique location at the northern end of a narrow peninsula which separates San Francisco Bay from the Pacific Ocean and forms the southern shore of the Golden Gate—the only sea level entrance through the coastal Mountains into the Great Valley—causes this to be known as the air-conditioned city, with cool, pleasant summers and mild winters. Flowers bloom throughout the year, and warm clothing is needed in every month.

As a result of the steady sweep of air from the Pacific, there are few extremes of heat or cold. During the entire 90 years of temperature records in San Francisco, temperatures have risen to 90 degrees or higher on an average of but once a year and dropped below freezing less than once a year. As a rule, abnormally warm or cool periods last but a few days.

Pronounced wet and dry seasons are another characteristic of this climate. On the average, 84% of the total annual precipitation falls during the five-month period November to March, leaving but 16% for the remaining seven months of the year. Long-time records of the Weather Bureau reveal that the sun shines in San Francisco during 65 of every 100 possible hours.

CONSTRUCTION

In 1963, construction in San Francisco scored its fifth consecutive year of $100 million or more in projects authorized by building permits. The total of $187.7 million was a 20.2% increase from 1962's record of $156 million, and the number of permits issued was a new record at 15,118. A total of 4,224 dwelling units was authorized, having a value of over $64 million.

Some of the major projects authorized in 1963 were:

Pacific Telephone & Telegraph—12-floor office building	$12,300,000
Wells-Fargo Building—43 floors (Dillingham Corp).	20,000,000
University of California—medical school expansion.	13,710,000
Eichler Central Towers—363 rental units (Eichler Homes, Inc.)	6,000,000
San Francisco Wholesale Produce Market.	4,707,000

Over $379 million worth of construction was authorized or was under way at the end of 1963.

Work on the Federal Office Building was completed. This 20-story structure is the West's largest office building.

Redevelopment in several areas made significant progress in 1963.

Western Addition Area One—Several buildings are completed, and re-population is under way. Most of the building permits in this area have now been issued, and most projects are nearly complete. Projects yet to start are those by Dworman Associates and the Japanese Cultural Center.

Western Addition Area Two—Virtually surrounding the initial project area, this land has been defined and approved, and plans are under way for selective redevelopment, with emphasis on preserving or rehabilitating most of the buildings.

Diamond Heights—Many of the 70 single-unit homes have been completed, and a start has been made on some of the high and low-rise apartment houses by San Francisco Redevelopers, Inc., on Red Rock Hill.

Golden Gateway—In Phase I of this $85-million plan for the 45-acre, 16-block area by Perini-San Francisco Associates, three high-rise apartment units containing 756 dwelling units and a 1,300-car garage have already been started in the blocks bounded by Battery, Clay, Davis and Washington streets. Atop this largest garage in San Francisco will be situated the new Alcoa Building, a 25-story office structure.

The South-of-Market area of about 90 acres will be redeveloped for wholesaling and industrial purposes, adjacent to the Central Business District. About $35 million would be required to accomplish the goals, a large portion of which would be paid by the Federal Government. Application has been made for funds, and plans are in progress on this project, which was conceived in 1957. Actual construction in this area may be several years away, however.

UTILITIES

San Francisco is the headquarters of the country's largest gas and electric operating utility, Pacific Gas & Electric Co., which serves 47 counties in northern California. Their Vallecitos Plant near Livermore was the world's first privately-financed nuclear power plant, and they have completed the country's first geothermal power plant in nearby Sonoma County. Water comes from the Sierra Nevada Mountains and Hetch Hetchy Reservoir through a 167-mile pipeline system, and is stored in several reservoirs in Alameda and San Mateo counties. Capacity of the municipal water department reservoirs is estimated at 275,000,000,000 gallons, with storage during 1959 (a dry year) ranging between average monthly lows of 64% to highs of 76%. San Francisco had in 1963 a total of 72 telephones per 100 population—one of the world's highest percentages of telephone users, and second-ranked in the U. S. (after Washington, D.C.).

GOVERNMENT

San Francisco has a consolidated City and County government, with legislative powers vested in a board of supervisors of eleven members, five and six being elected every two years for four-year terms. The Mayor, Treasurer, Assessor, City Attorney, Public Defender, District Attorney, Sheriff, and Superior and Municipal Court Judges are elected by the people and serve terms of four years. The chief Administrative Officer is appointed by the Mayor, but thereafter has permanent tenure. The Controller, appointed by the Mayor, subject to confirmation by the Supervisors, also has permanent tenure. The Mayor appoints members of, and supervises, police, fire, civil service, public utilitites, park and recreation, welfare, library, city planning, art, housing, parking permit appeals, redevelopment, retirement (in parts) and welfare board commissions, and may remove his appointees except civil service, public utilities, recreation and park, and welfare commissioners, and members of the school board. The Mayor Mayor also has power of veto over legislation.

The San Francisco Unified School District and the City and County have coterminous boundaries. Members of the Board of Education are nominated by the Mayor and passed upon by the voters.

San Francisco has operated under five charters, granted in 1850, 1856, 1861, 1898 and 1932.

Initiative and referendum clauses were first embraced in the 1898 charter.

Mayor James Rolph, Jr., took office in 1911 and served five successive terms, until he became Governor of the State. In 1931 he was succeeded by Angelo J. Rossi, who served until 1944, when he was succeeded by Roger D. Lapham, who pledged himself in advance to one term only. Mayor Elmer E Robinson took office Jan. 8, 1948, for a four-year term, and was re-elected for a second four-year term ending Jan. 8, 1956. Likewise serving for two terms, Mayor George F. Christopher took office in January, 1956, and was returned for a second four-year term in 1960. The present mayor, John F. Shelley, took office in January, 1964.

State and Federal Government Offices

San Francisco contains district and regional offices of many branches of the State and Federal governments. Located here are some 49 major agencies of the State, including top-rank commissions and boards. These and many lesser divisions and branches make a total of about 174 State groups. There are 177 Federal agencies in San Francisco, including representatives of the Legislative and Judicial branches, Executive departments and independent agencies. The 13 Executive departments include: Agriculture, Air Force, Army, Commerce, Defense, Health, Education and Welfare, Interior, Justice, Labor, Navy, Post Office, State and Treasury, and numerous special agencies related to regional administration of Federal activities.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS

First comes the group in the Civic Center, declared by the Duke of Connaught to be the finest thing of its kind in the world. The group consists of: (1) City Hall, of classic design, surmounted by an immense dome, higher than the dome of the U. S. Capitol Building at Washington; cost, $4,000,000. (2) Civic Auditorium, seating capacity of 12,000 in the main auditorium, with numerous small halls; cost, $2,000,000. (3) San Francisco Public Library; cost, $1,500,000. (4) State Building; cost, $1,000,000. (5) War Memorial group of buildings, as a part of Civic Center; cost, $4,000,000, consisting of Civic Opera House, American Legion Halls, etc. The San Francisco Federal Building cost $3,000,000.

Recent additions at the Civic Center include an underground garage and exhibit building (Brooks Hall) costing $3,392,000 and $3,711,000 respectively. The State Compensation Insurance Building, at $4,179,000, and the State Building Annex were opened in 1959. In 1964, construction of a new Federal Office Building, valued at $32,500,000, was completed. Twenty stories high, and occupying most of a city block, it is the West's largest office building, with Kaiser Center in Oakland second.

The California Palace of the Legion of Honor, in Lincoln Park, overlooking the Golden Gate, is a replica of the Palace of the Legion of Honor in Paris. It was presented to the City. The structure cost $2,000,000. Other leading public buildings are the U. S. Mint, located at Market St. and Duboce Ave., built in 1937 (now inactivated); the Post Office Building, corner of 7th and Mission streets; and the Ferry Building, at the foot of Market St. on the waterfront, built by the State in 1896 at a cost of $1,000,000. The Ferry Building is 659 feet long and 156 feet wide, and is the home of the World Trade Center. This was the first global mart to combine under one roof office and exhibit space, trade libraries and other facilities linked to international trade. The Covarrubias murals, executed for the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, and depicting flora, fauna, occupations and culture of peoples of Pacific nations, are now permanently housed here. The Customs House and U. S. Appraiser's Building represents an expenditure of more than $4,000,000. In Golden Gate Park are located the de Young Memorial Museum, Academy of Sciences, Steinhart Aquarium, Museum of Anthropology, and Morrison Planetarium. At Kearny and Washington streets is the Hall of Justice, erected in 1910 at a cost of $1,000,000, containing police courts and the criminal department of the superior court. Recently completed was the new Hall of Justice at 7th and Bryant streets, built at a cost of $19,475,000.

HARBOR AND WATER COMMERCE

Centered in the San Francisco Bay Area, San Francisco is an important port of general commerce, handling a large and valuable domestic and foreign trade. It is the main gateway of commerce for the vast territory of the Central Pacific Coast Area and Intermountain States. The Bay extends from the Golden Gate to the confluence of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers on the northeast, and to a point near San Jose on the south, covering an area of 450 square miles. Deep-water commerce enters San Francisco Bay through the Mile-wide Golden Gate, and thus shipping is afforded natural protection in the waters of the Bay. To this has been added a comprehensive system of docking and berthing facilities, rail and freight connections, modern and well-equipped warehouses, etc. San Francisco harbor has 18 miles of berthing space; 228 acres of pier and wharf area; 42 modern piers; facilities to dock the largest vessels; several dry docks; 60 miles of harbor trackage connecting piers and warehouses; modern grain, refrigeration, banana, cotton, copra and heliport terminals and a truck coordinating service. San Francisco's Foreign Trade Zone (one of only four in the U. S.) provides California with a special area where imported goods can be stored and processed free of customs entries.

The harbor is controlled by the State of California and is governed by the State Board of Harbor Commissioners appointed by the Governor. Of the 42 piers, most of them are assigned to steamship companies having their own fleets and operating their own schedules. San Francisco harbor facilities are valued at more than $100,000,000.

Over 250 air and marine lines maintain offices or agencies in the city, giving the Bay Area direct links with more than 300 world ports.

Water-borne cargo tonnage of San Francisco Bay is foremost on the Pacific Coast and high among those of the nation's ports.

In 1963, world trade through the San Francisco Custom District was valued at over $1,465,300,000, a record-breaking year.

Since World War II, the Port of San Francisco has been enhanced by a $70,000,000 modernization and expansion program. Major improvements have included a series of new piers and terminals, such as the Mission Rock development, the Islais Creek grain terminal expansion, the State Cotton Terminal, a foreign trade zone, and conversion of the north wing of the Ferry Building for the World Trade Center. Construction on a $26,000,000 super terminal at Islais Creek was begun in 1963, providing a 61-acre area with berthing for eight of the largest ships at a time. This is to be completed in 1966. San Francisco remains the leading general cargo port on the U. S. Pacific Coast.

TRANSPORTATION

Distribution Facilities—A vast transportation network, including transcontinental rail and highway facilities, air transport services, and steamship lines, converges in San Francisco, bringing unexcelled transportation services to local industry and business. San Francisco's fortunate geographic position on the Pacific Coast, combined with excellent distribution facilities, makes it possible for business and industry located here to serve a larger portion of the Western markets at lower distribution costs than can be reached from any other Pacific Coast city.

Rail

San Francisco is served directly by four Class I railroads operating more than 27,000 miles of line. These railroads, with their connections, thoroughly blanket California and neighboring states, and by means of seven major transcontinental routes and connecting routes, provide fast, dependable service to and from all parts of the U. S., Canada and Mexico. Passenger trains second to none are operated to and from the city. Reciprocal switching arrangements are in effect, under which the line-haul carrier will absorb the charges of the switching carrier on competitive traffic. Over 50 railroads maintain off-line agencies here.

State Belt Railroad—The four railroads connect with the State Belt which serves the San Francisco piers and many industries near the waterfront. They absorb the Belt's switching charge on line-haul carload traffic and, in part, on interline switching movements subject to stated minimum revenue per car.

L. C. L. Service—Store-door pick-up and delivery service for less-than-carload traffic is available between San Francisco and practically all points in California and neighboring states, including over-night service to points in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys, along the Coast, and Los Angeles.

Rapid Transit—Three counties of the Bay Area (San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa) are partners in the construction of an all-new, $925-million high-speed rail rapid transit system, approved by voters in these counties in 1962. The system will consist of a 75-mile route network, connecting downtown San Francisco and Oakland and Berkeley, with arms reaching out to Richmond, Concord, Fremont and Daly City. A total of 37 stations are to be connected by 70-mph trains, running at 90-second intervals during peak hours and 15-minute periods at other times. Engineering work is in process, with actual completion scheduled for 1971.

Water

Fast new marine freighters provide regular service between San Francisco and the Hawaiian Islands, Alaska, Australia, New Zealand, the South Seas, the Orient, Central and South America, the West Indies, Europe, South Africa and North Africa, also the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of the U. S. Luxurious and reconverted passenger liners operate to the Hawaiian Islands, the Orient and around the world. Limited passenger accommodations are available on freighters to Australia, the Orient, Central and South America, Europe, Puerto Rico, South Africa, and the East Coast of the U. S. Barge Services for bulk and general cargo are maintained to points on San Francisco Bay and connecting waters.

Highways

Truck Lines—Over 100 common-carrier truck lines provide scheduled service between San Francisco and points in California and neighboring states. Overnight service is availabe to all important points in California and to southern Oregon and western Nevada. In addition, more than 600 truck operators having headquarters or agencies in San Francisco hold intrastate permits from the Public Utilities Commission of California or interstate permits from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Bus Lines—Bus lines radiate north, east and south, providing frequent service between San Francisco and all important points in California and the eleven Western States. Two lines provide transcontinental service. Sight-seeing buses operated between San Francisco and neighboring points of interest, as well as in the city proper. Buses and limousines are available for charter.

Air

San Francisco is one of the major air terminals of the Pacific Coast. Its huge International Airport ranks among the world's finest. This magnificent terminal was dedicated in 1954 at a cost of $85,000,000 as a living, growing monument to commercial aviation. A $29,000,000 expansion of the airport is now under way to handle the constantly-increasing flow of traffic. A new south terminal wing, costing $14,000,000, was opened in 1963. Air service originates from here to virtually every point in the U. S., the Far East, Australia, the Pacific Islands, and Central and South America, and direct service via the polar route between here and Europe. Two major American flag carriers and one foreign flag carrier are now in service between San Francisco and Europe.

Eleven regional and trunk lines, plus four foreign flag carriers, provide numerous daily services for passengers, mail, express and freight. Most of the world's air lines which do not directly serve the city have ticket offices or traffic representatives here. In 1963, 6,414,620 passengers arrived or departed on the 171,431 flights by scheduled air lines.

One of the world's largest carriers has an immense maintenance base at the San Francisco airport, and other lines maintain servicing facilities which are being expanded under the development program now in progress.

Charter services, flight training and facilities for private planes are available at many smaller airports in the vicinity of San Francisco.

RETAIL TRADE AND SERVICE ESTABLISHMENTS

Retail Trade

Retail trade is one of the major activities among the business and industry groups in San Francisco, ranking second in number of employees, and third in payroll. Tangible personal property sold at retail through 21,170 outlets in San Francisco during 1963 amounted to $1,787,800,000; personal service establishments, $73,460,000; and manufacturing, wholesaling, contracting and miscellaneous outlets, $646,241,000. Sales of food for off-premise consumption and gasoline are not included in taxable sales.

A market of 4,000,000 people is concentrated in the nine Bay Area counties surrounding San Francisco Bay. Firms located in San Francisco distribute to all northern California's 7,300,000 people, and to the eleven Western States. Employment in retail trade in the metropolitan area averaged 187,000 in 1964, making it one of the largest occupational groups.

HOTELS

[illegible] U. S. Census of Business showed that San Francisco had a total of 502 hotels, of which 358 were big enough to have [illegible] were counted within San Francisco, [illegible] only 44 had a payroll. Gross receipts from all hotels and [illegible] in 1958 amounted to $62.2 million.

Since then three new major hotels have opened, and two other major projects are under way; these five are the first new [illegible] hotels in San Francisco in many years. One of these projects is the San Francisco Hilton, completed in 1964, providing 1,200 rooms.

MEDICAL CENTER

There are 30 hospitals in San Francisco—mostly general, [illegible]—and they provide 9,091 beds, not only for patients from around the Bay Area, but from all over the Western U. S. and even the Orient. In 1962, 13,834 employees in this industry earned over $71,000,000. As many as one-third of the 183,027 patients in 1962 came from outside the city.

PUBLIC HEALTH

San Francisco public health facilities include a bacteriological laboratory, a chemical laboratory, consolidated inspection services, the San Francisco Hospital, the Laguna Honda Home for aged indigents, the Hassler Health Farm for convalescent tuberculosis cases, six emergency hospitals, child welfare centers, well-baby clinics, and other health-control facilities scattered throughout the city.

EDUCATION AND RESEARCH

Superior educational and research facilities are available in the Bay Area, including such world-renowned universities as Stanford (which now has several campuses in Europe and Japan) and the University of California, largest in the world, with (in 1963) a 26,759 student campus at Berkeley and 2,600 students in five colleges in San Francisco.

Four of the 15 colleges of the State College system are in the Bay Area—at San Francisco, San Jose, Hayward, and Cotati. Several other schools—Catholic, private, women's, men's, and junior colleges—are in San Francisco and its surrounding area.

A recent directory entitled "Scientific Resources of the San Francisco Bay Area" lists over 500 different research organizations in industry, government agencies, schools, and private institutions, in 1961.

In the fall 1963 semester, public and parochial full-time enrollments in the nine Bay Area counties totaled 1,011,151 from kindergarten through grade 14 (public junior colleges are maintained in California by individual school districts). Of this total, 95,012 were enrolled in the parochial schools, about 10.6% of the total.

San Francisco public and parochial school enrollments climbed 30% between 1950 and 1960, despite a total population decrease of 4.5%. Based on San Francisco Health Department resident birth records, children under five years of age showed a decline of 20% from 1950. Those in the age bracket of 16 through 19—not accounted for in public or parochial schools but included under other colleges or private schools and those gainfully employed—increased 9.57%.

There are 131 public schools, including 15 junior high and eight senior high schools. There also are many parochial and diocesan schools. Number of pupils in daily attendance at public schools, 108,203; in parochial schools, 29,418; and several thousand others in private and technical schools in the city. Institutions of higher education in San Francisco, with full-time enrollments (fall, 1963), include the following: City College of San Francisco (7,600); San Francisco State College (15,840); San Francisco College for Women (600); University of San Francisco (1,600), and Golden Gate College. The University of California maintains several branches in San Francisco, including the colleges of Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Hastings College of the Law, and the California School of Fine Arts, with enrollments totaling over 2,500 in the city.

At Berkeley, 26,759 were enrolled full-time (fall, 1963), and on all campuses of the University, 64,468. Stanford and the University of California at Berkeley are both within convenient commuting distance of San Francisco. Other colleges within the Bay Area offering standard curricula include the new Alameda County State College, San Jose State, University of Santa Clara, Armstrong College of Business Administration (Berkeley), Dominican (San Rafael), Mills (Oakland), Holy Name (Oakland), Notre Dame (Belmont), and St. Mary's (Moraga).

[illegible] San Francisco and the [illegible] and [illegible] offer fine [illegible]

[illegible] in northern [illegible] national average in relation to the population.

[illegible] tion facilities include the public universities system, state colleges, public junior colleges, private four-year colleges and private junior colleges.

Extensive research activities are carried out by the larger universities of California and Stanford and numerous other northern California organizations with research facilities.

BAY AREA MARKET DEVELOPMENTS

Population

The Bay Area, on April 1, 1960, had 3,638,939 residents, an increase of 35.7% since April 1, 1950. The nine-county Bay Area population is now greater than that of 34 of the 50 states. The growth in this area between 1940 and 1950 exceeded the growth of all but five states—California, New York, Texas, Michigan and Ohio. The present population estimate is 749,900 for San Francisco and 4,078,800 for the Bay Area.

Industrial Development

During 1960 in the Bay Region (nine Bay Area counties plus Sacramento, San Joaquin, Yolo and Santa Cruz), 862 industrial projects with outlays of $198,689,280 were reported. Of this number, 665 were expansions with outlays of $187,727,780, and 197 were new plants with outlays of $10,961,500.

Trade

Taxable retail sales in the nine-county Bay Area reached a total of $6,708,364 in 1963—a gain of 6.2% over 1962, and representing 24.1% of the total for the state.

Construction

In the Bay Area, 1963 was a record year for construction, with value of all permits issued up 14.8% from 1962, the previous record year.

	Value of all Construction	Residential Only Value	Dwelling Units

GENERAL BUSINESS ACTIVITY

The Chamber's index of general business activity for 1963 was 137.4, based on a 1957-59 average of 100, a gain of 10.8% over 1962.

The index is based on four components, car loadings, department store sales, electric energy sales, and bank debits.

Bank debits, continuing to be the most significant factor, increased 17.3% over the same period the previous year. The total debits for the first six months of 1963 were $39,780,152,000—up more than $4,000,000,000 from the first half of 1962.

Electric energy sales rose 5.1%. Department store sales slipped 0.3%. Freight car loadings increased 0.6%. (The figures represent comparisons between the first half of 1963 and the first six months of 1962).

FINANCE

Financial Capital

San Francisco, the financial and insurance capital of the West, is headquarters of the world's largest bank and is one of the nation's most important financial centers. Five of the nation's 50 largest commercial banks are located in San Francisco. The 19 San Francisco banks reported total resources of over $25,000,000,000 at the end of 1964.

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco is the headquarters of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District.

There are 87 corporations with assets exceeding $10,000,000,000 that have their headquarters in San Francisco. Another 55 such corporations are headquartered in the other eight Bay Area counties.

Stock Exchange

The Pacific Coast Stock Exchange—the "Exchange of Destiny"—is second only to New York as a regional security market. It accounts for about 30% of the national regional stock exchange volume.

The San Francisco division, founded in 1882, and the Los Angeles division, founded in 1899, have played important individual roles in pumping the life blood of finance into the dynamic Pacific Coast area to build industrial growth, to develop business and to expand agriculture.

Consolidation of the two exchanges, amalgamating the West's two chief security markets, was effected in 1957, after years of planning and study. The creation of a broader market—providing many new opportunities for investors, corporations, security dealers and banks and financial institutions—was the result.

Buying and selling orders are executed immediately, not only in the city of placement, but also on the division floors, even though 400 miles apart, via a special telephone circuit.

The Exchange comprises 122 member organizations, including 29 member corporations serving public investors, through more than 800 officers in eleven Western States, the Midwest, the East and abroad. There are also 2,000 registered representatives associated with the member firms in West Coast offices and 360 non-member dealers and banks across the nation that function through these firms.

More than 550 common and preferred stocks of companies of national, regional and local significance, including Hawaii, are listed by the Exchange—80 of them exclusively.

The most important advantage in trading on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange is the time differential between the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards. Pacific is the only major national securities exchange open from 12:30 P.M. to 2:30 P.M. (PST). This time differential makes Pacific Coast the nation's security market after 12:30 P.M. (PST) each market day. National and international events of major importance affecting trading often result in a flow of orders to the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange from all over the nation.

Another specific advantage of Pacific is the tax-saving benefit. Customers who executed and sold orders through Pacific in 1958 at the same price as the primary market, saved over $520,000 in not having to pay a transfer tax to the State of New York.

San Francisco also is the home of the San Francisco Mining Exchange, where over 20,000,000 shares were traded in 1961, with a value of $2,893,541.

Savings and Loan Associations

There were 16 savings and loan associations in San Francisco in December, 1964.

From any standpoint, geographically, by total assets, or loans recorded, the recent growth of savings and loan associations in California, the Bay Area, and San Francisco, has been amazing.

A study of total assets by Bay Area associations and of loans recorded by savings and loan associations in San Francisco shows the following significant increases:

(1) At the beginning of 1964, total assets of 55 state and federally-chartered associations in the Bay Area grew to over $2,770,899,000, ten times greater than the total a decade earlier.

(2) 16 associations headquartered in San Francisco have grown in 1964 to $1,620,117,213 in assets, and will celebrate a savings and loan centennial in 1965.

(3) In the city of San Francisco, loans recorded in 1963 by savings and loan associations grew to $273,124,867. The number of loans totaled 10,018.

Insurance

San Francisco is the insurance center of the West, and the home office location for 27 stock and mutual companies authorized to transact business in California. Represented are agents and brokers offering all classes of business, including the major lines, such as life, auto, disability, liability, health, fire, marine, workmen's compensation, title, fidelity, security, burglary and theft and extended coverage. In 1962 the industry employed in San Francisco approximately 22,500 persons, with annual payrolls of $120,233,435. In addition, San Francisco is the headquarters of some 19 insurance associations, including such prominent names as Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, Pacific Fire Rating Bureau, and Insurance Brokers Exchange of California.

Direct premiums written by all insurance groups in California amounted to $3,856,876,117 in 1962, or 9% above the previous year. Direct losses paid, $2,125,666,695, were up 11%. Life insurance in force totaled $66,184,000,000 in California in 1962.

PARKS AND RECREATION

Generously provided and well distributed are 127 public recreation and park units covering 4,043 acres. The areas in the city account for about one-eighth of the available land area.

About 80 playgrounds and recreation centers are individually supervised. Included in these facilities are outdoor and indoor swimming pools, tennis courts, regulation baseball and softball diamonds, golf courses, putting greens, bowling greens, yacht harbor, and a family mountain camp (200 acres, approximately 180 miles from San Francisco at elevation 4,500 feet).

Golden Gate Park, notably one of the finest parks in the world, comprising 1,017 acres with many thousands of different kinds of trees, shrubs and plants, contains an aquarium, a museum, the Morrison Planetarium, the California Academy of Sciences, the Japanese Tea Garden, and many unusual attractions. The Fleishhacker Playfield, fronting on the Pacific Ocean, contains one of the largest outdoor swimming pools in the world, and the San Francisco Zoological Gardens are close by.

SOCIAL FEATURES

San Francisco, because of its various ethnic groups, is a cosmopolitan city, which it was at a very young age in its history. Today its flavor has remained universal; its neighborhoods, variety of restaurants, foreign-language newspapers, street names, arts and craft shops, book stores, and even its schools, are clues to the Old World—both East and West—and the traditions of great cultures of the past.

Chinatown, of course, is famed as the largest Chinese settlement existing outside of Asia itself. The North Beach section is populated by Italian-Americans of all classifications; the Mission District by Irish intermixed with Spanish, Mexicans, and Anglo-Saxons. Many other nationality groups, including Russians, Germans, French, Greeks, Armenians, Syrians, Turks, and Canadians, among them, came to settle in San Francisco. The Japanese, primary link to the destiny of the Pacific Coast in its ties with the Far East, are centered around Post and Buchanan streets.

The city long has been a center for the performing and designing arts. Nearly 100 art galleries and over ten "Little Theatre" groups are located here.

HISTORY

Discovery

San Francisco owes its discovery and much of its history to the daring and adventure-loving early Portugese, English and Spanish explorers. The romance of those early days clings to the city and lends charm to its atmosphere even today.

Though San Francisco's heritage is rightly credited to the Spanish, more than two centuries before Portola's arrival, Juan Rodrigues Cabrillo in 1542 discovered the Farallon Islands (now a part of San Francisco); next, Sir Francis Drake, famed English explorer, passed by the Golden Gate and in 1579 discovered Drake's Bay, a few miles north of San Francisco, where the first church service in the English language on the Pacific Coast was held.

In 1769, Don Gaspar de Portola and his little band of adventurers were the first to glimpse the bay from the nearby hills on the south. Six years later the ship "San Carlos," in command of Don Juan Manuel Ayala, sailed through the Golden Gate to cast the first anchor in the bay. More than a century before, in 1603, Vizcaino visited what is now the Gulf of the Farallons and mapped it as Bahia de Puerto de San Francisco. This is the first time the name San Francisco appeared on record in connection with the vicinity of San Francisco.

Early Beginnings

The settlement of what is now San Francisco was just being founded by the Spaniards when the Liberty Bell pealed the birth of this nation. First Spaniards, then Russians, then Americans came and lived to enjoy life and to rule.

The site for the Presidio of San Francisco was selected on March 28, 1776, by Colonel Juan Bautista de Anza, and on March 29, the site for the mission, Mission San Francisco de Asia (Dolores)—a combination of Mission, Moorish and Corinthian architecture. While from the beginning the mission was called San Francisco, the settlement at the cove under Telegraph Hill was known as Yerba Buena.

[illegible] hides, tallow [illegible]s, traders sought [illegible] through a western route. San Francisco was the [illegible] in the days of sailing vessels. Growing in stature, the city has become one of the world's great distribution [illegible].

First Elections

Democratic self-government of the bureaucratic sort decreed by the Mexican Republic came to Yerba Buena (later named San Francisco) before the town itself arrived. Citizens of the [illegible] (civil district) of San Francisco, on Governor Jose Figueroa's orders, assembled at the Presidio on Dec. 7, 1834, to choose electors for the Ayuntamiento (district council). On the following Sunday, Don Francisco de Haro was elected to the district council as Alcalde for the projected pueblo of Yerba Buena.

Naming of the City

The village of Yerba Buena, which in 1847 was to be rechristened with the name of San Francisco, in 1835 was still an insignificant outpost frequented by roving seafarers and was little more than a waste of sand and chaparral, sloping down to a beach and small lagoon which has long since been filled in and is now covered by massive commercial structures. El Paraje de Yerba Buena (the Little Valley of the Good Herb) derived its name in the beginning because of the aromatic vine found in the underbrush there.

The Bay

In 1835, the Bay was declared a port of entry by Governor Pablo Vicente de Sola. He appointed as captain of the Port of San Francisco, William Antonio Richardson, a young master mariner who had deserted the British whaler "Orion" in 1822 and set up the first "house" in Yerba Buena Cove, made up of some redwood poles over which was stretched a ship's sail.

During 1836, the Port of San Francisco became an important trading post. On July 1, 1836, Jacob Primer Leese, Ohio-born, partner in a Monterey mercantile firm, arrived by the barque "Don Quixote" from Monterey and by July 4 had thrown up a frame house 25 by 60 feet, the first "real" house to be built—part dwelling and part warehouse. He then summoned all the leading Mexican families and other prominent persons to an Independence Day celebration which lasted two days and a night. During the celebration the Stars and Stripes were raised beside the Mexican flag for the first time in San Francisco.

First Survey

In the autumn of 1839, Jacques Vioget, a versatile Swiss of the Peruvian brig "Delmira," was commissioned by Alcalde de Haro to make the first land survey of Yerba Buena. By 1841 thirty families comprised the village population. During the next five years some of the prominent early settlers shifted to other localities in the Bay Area. At the same time, Yerba Buena, outrivaled by the port of Honolulu, drifted back into obscurity.

"The Portsmouth"

Then, on July 9, 1846, the "U. S. S. Portsmouth" quietly dropped anchor in Yerba Buena Cove, and Capt. John B. Montgomery and 70 sailors and marines came ashore and ran up the Stars and Stripes on Mexico's flagpole atop the adobe Custom House near the Plaza, as the "Portsmouth" gave a 21-gun salute. Thus passed the rule of the village of Yerba Buena from Spanish to American. On Aug. 6, 1846, Captain Montgomery appointed Lieut. Washington Allen Bartlett as the first Alcalde of Yerba Buena under the American flag. Bartlett was confirmed by public vote on Sept. 15. His first important decree ordered the revision of Vioget's survey, which had served to locate building lots since 1839. His civil engineer, Jasper O'Farrell, in making the survey, discovered in 1847 that streets as laid out in the early survey intersected at 2½ degrees from a right angle. Correction of this error, known as "O'Farrell's Swing," was made promptly.

A Reception Center Since Gold Days

When gold was discovered on Jan. 24, 1848, in Sutter's millrace on the American River, and the evidence reached San Francisco's nearly 900 inhabitants, the first gold rush, led by Sam Brannan, publishers of the town's newspaper, "The Star," left only seven inhabitants behind. As the news spread around the world and ships came streaming into the harbor, a year later found over 6,000 miners at the "diggins," and San Francisco again was a cantonment of tents with a population reported at 2,000 excited transients.

LETTERPRESS and TRACING SHEETS were meant for each other!

● Sharper ● Perfect for Microfilm ● Economical ● Opaque ● Flexible

Obtainable thru your drafting and engineering supply dealer

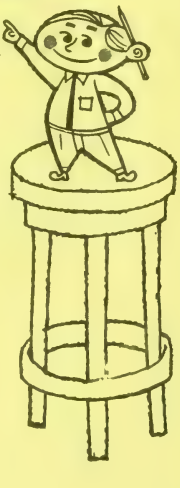
Letterpress Quality
Surpasses the Most Stringent
Microfilm Requirements



Now...

You can order completely printed tracing sheets up to 161" long ready for immediate job development. No longer is it necessary for your engineering department to spend high-priced time completing borders, trim lines, microfilm arrows and frame marks, numbers and fold marks.

Yes, a revolutionary new letter press can produce your LARGE tracing sheet requirements at a fraction of the cost heretofore necessitated through obsolete methods.

Typical Customer Comment

"Your letterpress printed large tracing sheets are worth ten times the actual cost!" "We used another process which was half your price — then spent thousands of dollars restoring the printed portions after rejection of submitted microfilm. Never again!" "The immediate impression of neatness and organization made possible by this new process can and does have a vital effect on whether or not the job is started on the right foot!"

Is poor lighting slowing down your office staff?

When lighting's not up to snuff, employees don't see as fast as they could and office productivity suffers. Eyestrain can cause costly mistakes. Morale can sink—along with your profits! But with a lighting system designed for their special needs, employees can see better, work gets done more efficiently—and more profitably!

Why not brighten your profit picture? See your architect, engineer—or contact PG&E—and learn how to improve your office lighting. Also, write the Northern California Electrical Bureau, 1355 Market Street, San Francisco 3, for free copies of "What's New In Office Lighting" and "Recommended Levels of Illumination."

SHORT & DIRECT ROUTE TO LONG & HAPPY TENANCIES !

For nearly a half century, Milton Meyer & Co. has been helping industries find new plant locations in California, particularly in the San Francisco Bay Area.

As the pace of industrial development in this region increases, so does the scope of our Industry-Lease Program. And so does the roster of our nationally-known clients for whom we have found the right spot, built the right plant and written the right lease.

One or two appointments have usually proved enough to iron out all details of site-selection, design and building to your order, and rental. Our wealth of experience enables you to reach decisions quickly, keep cost down, accomplish your move with maximum efficiency and satisfaction.

We invite your inquiry and will hold it in strict confidence.

Here is partial list of companies we have helped in choosing their plant sites or for whom we have had buildings constructed on a lease-back basis:

GENERAL ELECTRIC, ARMSTRONG CORK, AMPEX, APPLIED ELECTRONICS-RAYTHEON, BORG WARNER, UNION TWIST DRILL, AMERICAN BOSCH, KPIX WESTINGHOUSE, SEARS, ROEBUCK, SWIFT & CO., F. W. WOOLWORTH, LANGENDORF BAKERIES, HOLT, RINEHART & WINSTON, MONTGOMERY WARD, PACKARD BELL, W. T. GRANT, GATES RUBBER, H. K. PORTER CO., KORET OF CALIFORNIA, BOISE CASCADE, MERCEDES BENZ.

If You're an Investor . . .

Remember that right here in our San Francisco Offices, we have–

*Large Quote Boards Showing up-to-second quotations on all the leading stocks and commodities.

*New York Stock and American Exchange tickers, with Translux screens for at-a-glance prices.

*Dow-Jones news wire for latest world-wide events.

*Our own Special News Wire that for eight hours a day carries a stream of fact and information on stocks, bonds, commodities . . . quotes conditions and prices in every major market . . . flashes any news items you may want to know about – Now!

*Over 210,000 miles of private wire that link 160 Merrill Lynch offices throughout the world to expedite "over-the-counter" trading.

*A research Department, one of the largest in the business, to supply fresh facts about particular securities . . . to analyze your present holdings . . . or to prepare a suitable investment program for any sum. All without charge or obligation of any kind.

*Printed reports on selected industries, important companies, leading stocks.

*Membership in every major exchange.

Enough experienced account executives to provide personalized individual service.

AND AS TO POLICY . . .
We make no "service charges" on any kind. *We charge only the standard commissions of the New York Stock Exchange, or any other exchange on which an order is executed. *On "over-the-counter" securities, we handle transactions on either a commission basis or at a net price. *Our service depends on your needs – not your pocketbook. No account is regarded as too small at Merrill Lynch. None too large. *Our customers' interests must always come first.

So if you're an investor, and like these services and policies, just remember–
